Congratulations, poster presenters! The Woods Institute, the Chi Conference co-chairs, as well as the other participants of the conference are looking forward to learning about you and your work in the environmental arena here at Stanford. Contained herein is a set of guidelines to help you in your preparation to share your work with the other participants at the Chi Conference.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR POSTER PRESENTERS

Title and Abstract:
We will use the title and abstract that is in the registrations system, Chi Conference website, on the conference website and in the handout to attendees.

Posters:
We will provide a 4’x4’ mounting board and pushpins for each poster. Please hang your poster no later than 8:00 AM and remove it after the reception (6:00 PM). When you arrive, we will show you where to place your poster. If you do not remove your poster, it will be brought back to Woods office in Y2E2 for safekeeping. Posters need to be picked up from Woods by Wednesday, January 19.

Patents:
Note: If you have results for which you may be applying for a patent, please review data to be made public at this meeting to ensure that they will not be included in future patent applications.

Questions:
If you have any questions, please contact: Chi Conference student and postdoctoral chairs, Wil Srubar, wsrubar@stanford.edu, or Annika Todd, annika.todd@stanford.edu, or Leigh Johnson, leighj@stanford.edu, at the Woods Institute. Thank you.

We look forward to seeing you at the conference!
